Lesson Plans

Planning is a crucial element in the delivery of effective instruction. Lesson plans can be viewed as being developed for a one-time-teaching-learning experience or for one of a series of lessons which can stand alone but is meaningful in the context of a complete concept or topic.

The Stafford County School Board endorses the practice of lesson planning as an encouragement to effective, productive learning experiences. The superintendent is to issue regulations to establish guidelines for lesson plans for use by regular teacher and by substitute teachers.
